Formed in 1993, Velo Club 167 is a modern cycling club, based primarily in the North on England, but with a varied membership spread over wide geographical area; from Tyneside, through most of Yorkshire and Lancashire.

Members of VC167 meet at the White Horse, Darlington for a Sunday club run. L to R: Ken Reid, Clive Nunn, John Byers, Graham Wanless, Ian Dunn, Gordon Panicca, Andy Oliver and Chris Cooke.

Velo Club 167 has seen some great riders pass through its ranks over the years, including Andy Oliver and Richard King, who both went on to become 1st category road racers, and we also have some great current members such as Cyclo Cross Veteran, Tony Liddle who finished at an excellent 8th place in the TLI National Veterans Championships in the 2007.
